Message from the President 2005 AGM;

Wine, Cheese and NO Arm-twisting

I am a bit surprised to find that almost a year has gone by since the last AGM. It was a busy time, as I slowly learned the ropes of being WPCL president. Fortunately, I'm surrounded by active and thoughtful fellow executive members; in fact, it was they who gently reminded me that it was time to organize another AGM.

The 2005 AGM will be held on Friday, October 28, at 7:00 pm, in the community hall. The business of the meeting will be kept as short as possible and there will be NO arm-twisting of attendees. The executive will have updates on new development in our neighbourhood and on West High Speed Transit. There will be plenty of time for questions and comments from the floor. And, we'll have wine, cheese, sweets and socializing after the meeting ends.

I am pleased to announce that we have three new executive members: Gabriella Maddelena-Makar has taken over Block Parent responsibilities; Amanda Brisbois will co-ordinate Neighbourhood Watch; and Marilyn Gaa has taken charge of Community Landscaping. It is great to have new people involved!

This leaves just a few vacancies on our executive. We need a Social Coordinator, Building Manager and a Secretary. We are not looking for people to do everything, just people to coordinate getting the work done. For example, we do not necessarily need a handyman as building manager; anyone who can use a phone and a phone book would be effective and welcome.

The president's job is to represent the community's views. I am looking forward to meeting you, and hearing your suggestions and concerns on October 28.

---John Collier, Windsor Park
Community League President

Minkha Alpaca Sweaters Bolivian Sweater Project

Over the past three years, Windsor Park Community League has been a partner in supporting this project by offering the community league building as a facility for selling these wonderful garments in December and June of each year. These hand knit garments are made by the women of the Minkha Cooperative of Cochabamba Bolivia. The project supports 45 women and their families.

In Edmonton, the project is supported by a terrific group of volunteers and all of the money raised goes directly back to the cooperative in Bolivia. Over the last three years, over $150,000 has been sent back to Bolivia.

Thank you to all the residents of Windsor Park who have been part of supporting the project. It continues to make an enormous difference in the lives of these Bolivian families and it honors the artistry and craftsmanship of the remarkable knitters.

The next sale will be held at the community league, December 10.

This will be a wonderful opportunity to purchase a unique Christmas gift. Not only do you purchase a beautiful sweater, you also directly support the community of the cooperative. It's green Christmas giving at its best.

What to do when they wet the bed

Another soggy morning? If changing your child's wet sheets has become part of your morning routine, take heart. You're not alone. It is estimated that at least 15 to 20 per cent of five-year-olds wet the bed on a regular basis. It is a condition that tends to run in families, with boys more likely than girls to have trouble staying dry throughout the night.

Often, children who wet the bed are deep sleepers who have difficulty waking up for a trip to the bathroom when they sense their bladders are full. Bedwetting (especially after a dry stretch of six months or more) can also be related to an emotional event such as moving to a new home or the loss of a loved one.

The good news is that children often outgrow this condition by puberty, as their bladders increase in size and they develop better bladder control.

Children seldom wet the bed on purpose and are often embarrassed when it happens. Rather than make them feel ashamed, parents need to lend their support and encouragement to help them overcome this problem.

Parents can also help by:

- Limiting liquids (and caffeine) before bedtime;

- Encouraging the child to go to the bathroom before lights out;
- Waking the child during the night for a bathroom trip;
- Praising the child on dry mornings; and
- Avoiding punishments.

In some cases, bedwetting is related to a medical condition. Parents should discuss bedwetting with their child's physician, who can investigate further. A number of medications and therapies are available for the treatment of bedwetting. Your pharmacist can answer your questions about these options.

Windsor Park Summer Playground Program

It's over for another year! The Summer Playground Program held at the Windsor Park playground from July 4-August 26 was a great success! The program ran from 1:30-5:30 p.m. Monday to Friday afternoons. Except for one very rainy (versus the slightly rainy) week, over 10 children per hour, on average, were at the park having fun with the most awesome leader, Amanda.

The program is a joint effort with City of Edmonton, Community Services and the Windsor Park Community League. Community Services recruits, trains, and supervises the leader. The League pays the salary of the leader with some support from a Student Temporary Employment Grant (STEP). The program would not happen without the involvement of the League. Just another example of the Windsor Park League in action.

If you missed the fun this year, be sure to mark on your July and August 2006 calendar as "good times at the park". .....and it's right in your own neighbourhood. Best of all...it's FREE.
SEE YOU NEXT SUMMER!
