February 2008

Message from the President...

A Few Good Windsor Parkites

The WPCL will be holding a casino on March 17 and 18, 2008. We need just a few more volunteers so that everyone only has to do only one shift. The funds generated by these volunteer-staffed casinos are used to run and maintain programs and facilities in Windsor Park, as well as to assist other programs in the Edmonton area. Please fill out the casino volunteer form in this newsletter, and deliver it to

Ed Holmes, 11902 – 89 Avenue

FAX: 474-8001.

Your help will be much appreciated.

A Winter's Tale

A community league does not run on executive members alone. Community volunteers are the people who really get things done in this city and in Windsor Park. For more years than I have been in the neighbourhood, the Miller family has been running and maintaining our ice rink. On those cold winter evenings when we'd all like to be curled up in front of a warm fire with a good book, Joe and his sons are out clearing and flooding the ice surface. To my way of thinking, anyone who wields a water hose in cold temperatures is going above and beyond the call of duty and Windsor Park is much the better for it. Thank you.

EFCL

The Edmonton Federation of Community Leagues is funded in large part by the City of Edmonton. Recently, at least one councilor and the mayor have apparently said that perhaps the City should not be funding groups that may end up opposing some of the City's proposed bylaws and regulations.

While I can understand that the EFCL's opposition at times can be frustrating for City Council, the voice of experienced community members is an important one, and has often helped change proposed bylaws for the better. One example that comes to mind was a proposed bylaw to deal with the redevelopment of contaminated sites (largely decommissioned gas stations). The EFCL's planner played a key role in examining and drafting responses to the bylaw as it wound its way through the system. In the end, the EFCL was instrumental in seeing through amendments that put the safety of citizens first, as well as reducing the City's future liability exposure.

If you find yourself talking to one of your councillors, please let him or her know how you feel on this issue. City Council needs to hear from you, regardless of whether you support the EFCL or not, so it can make informed choices about our future.

Fare-thee-Well

I was sorry to learn that we are losing an active, long-term community member. After forty years in Windsor Park, Dr. Helen Hays is planning to leave Edmonton this spring. The WPCL executive would like to thank Dr. Hays for her many contributions to the community and our city, and to offer our best wishes for the future.

Please feel free to contact me on any issues. I can be reached by phone, 433-1270, or email, jbcollie@shaw.ca.

Increasing Our Affordable Housing Stock

Too many people live in sub-standard housing or places they can't afford, so when they do pay their rent or mortgage, they have little money left over for food and clothing, let alone holidays!

Council, in December, passed a bylaw which I hope will be one small step toward increased supply of affordable housing. We passed Bylaw 14750, allowing secondary and garage suites in some parts of the City. The rules have been relaxed so that more people can be housed, more affordably. This is an important step that will make a big difference in some people's lives. Secondary suites include basement suites or parts of a house, and also garage suites. This is being applied in a two-stage process, now it applies to newer parts of the city and to areas near industry or apartment buildings. Next year Council will be revisiting this and consider extending that permission to all areas of the city. An estimated 10% of homeowners may take advantage of this to provide more housing in the form of a small suite in their existing property.

I argued that we should apply this to owner-occupied dwellings only, but this did not pass. Council decided both rental properties and owner-occupied properties can have secondary suites.

Some also argued that approval of suites should be discretionary, and that neighbours should have a right to appeal granting permission for a secondary suite. This also did not pass, as the majority of Council felt it was important enough to increase the affordable housing stock to leave it as non-discretionary. However, building codes and other regulatory standards will still apply, and substandard housing is not encouraged. In fact this will allow us to ensure that many of the sub-standard unofficial suites can be brought up to code.

I know this is only one step toward more affordable housing, and that we need a far larger involvement of our federal and provincial governments, but with this step the City of Edmonton has taken one important step that will bring some results.

Playschool News

The Windsor Park Co-op Playschool offers two morning programs:

- ◆ 3-year-olds on Tuesdays and Thursdays.
- ◆ 4-year-olds on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

Our teacher has an ECE degree, and our emphasis is on learning through play, with seasonal themes, topics like health, safety, and nature, and related field trips. For more information, call 433-4754.

Windsor Park History

The house built in 1931 for Morden Long, the first professor of History at the University of Alberta, at 11615 Saskatchewan Drive was designed by Cecil Burgess. Two other houses, one next door at 11619 Saskatchewan Drive and another across the lane at 11620 Edinboro Road were built for Cameron & Morrison, professors of mining and civil engineering at about this time and have similar 2 storey facades, symmetrical about their front entrances. They might be Burgess' work. As you know he was living less than a block away at this time. All three wood –sided houses have additions which don't appear to parts of the original design.
