Message from the President...

Windsor Park and Parking Passes

- Did you know that parking passes, visitor or otherwise, are only valid if the vehicle is parked within a short distance of the address to which the pass was issued?
- Did you know that a vehicle that parks in front of your house every weekday for eight hours is not a visitor?
- Did you know that Windsor Park is one of only a few residential parking areas allowed to have visitor-parking passes?
- Did you know that Windsor Park is required to have a community parking coordinator (a position that is now vacant, by the way) to deal with parking issues arising from inappropriate pass use?
- Did you know that, in attempting to deal with parking issues, we have to extensively document each repeat offender with written records, polite letters, etc before the City will take any action?

My guess is: probably not.

Why else would there be so many parking complaints arising for the parking coordinator and executive to contend with? It is very frustrating to deal with the City on these issues. They do not like the program; they wish it would go away. In fact, they have come very close to simply eliminating it during the last few years. Parking restrictions based on hours, phases of the moon or vehicle colour, they don't mind: straightforward and no grey areas. Parking passes, visitor or otherwise, that are used by people blocks away from the issuing address, are more difficult. Attempts at enforcement are met with responses like, "Gosh, I didn't know," the matter is dropped with a warning, and two weeks later the miscreants are back in action, perhaps a few feet closer to base. Once again involving records and polite letters, etc. And I haven't even mentioned the wretches who actually sell their passes! How their mothers must hang their heads in shame.

Drama aside, I am beginning to wonder whether we should eliminate the visitor-parking passes. It might be far simpler to allow parking passes for resident's vehicles only, within 100 feet of the issued address, requiring copies of each vehicle's registration (addresses have to match) and displaying the license number of the vehicle on the permit. Some elements of this approach are already in place, but the full combination would make our parking program easier to enforce. The City would be happy and so, perhaps, would future WPCL parking coordinators (and presidents).

As far as I can see, virtually every house in WP has off-street, on-property parking available, which would allow them to accommodate their visitors' vehicles (even if their own must then be parked temporarily on the street). So, maybe, we could all live without visitor-parking passes?

I am just one person in this community and it's not my opinion that counts, it's yours. What do you think? Am I right on the money? Do you only use your visitor-passes to shim wonky furniture? As bits of scrap for shopping lists? Maybe you don't apply for any passes at all.

Or... Am I an idiot prattling on – full of sound and fury, signifying nothing? Perhaps you use your visitor passes regularly? Find them necessary, as the parking on your own property is limited?

Please contact me at the coordinates below and let me know what you think. Don't worry, nothing is going to change anytime soon. I am just running up a couple of flags to see who's saluting and who's shooting. But, if you are one of the people abusing your parking passes, "Knock it off, please!"

[Please note that we need a parking co-ordinator. Ed.]

Urgent Urgent

We need just a few more people in the count room for this March's casino! The monies raised will largely be used for our new playground. Please contact Betty Millar at 780 439 0130

Parkland Redevelopment

The Playground Redevelopment Committee is broadening its scope to include all the parklands within the Windsor Park boundaries. If you're interested in seeing walking trails in and around the old rose garden, perhaps a skateboard park (only joking a wee bit) or other ideas for the smaller park areas in Windsor Park, or if you'd prefer to see well enough left alone, perhaps you would like to join the committee to have your views heard. We will be freezing the number of voting committee members at the beginning of March, so this is the last call for members!

Community League Membership Numbers

To date we have 240 households who have either purchased memberships or are honorary members for 2009-10 and memberships continue to come in. Thank you so much for your support.

If you missed our fall membership drive, you can obtain a membership anytime by contacting Janet Millar (see contact list) or online at efcl.org. Community league membership not only supports league programs, it also gives you significant discounts at City of Edmonton Leisure, Sports and Fitness Facilities. Memberships are $25 for a household and free for residents 65 years and older (tax receipts given for donations).

Please feel free to contact me with any issues or concerns you might have. I can be reached at :
